THE VINTAGE

2014 was a succession of totally different seasons. Mild temperatures and plenty of rain (our weather station registered a rainfall excess of 87%) caused an early beginning of the vegetative cycle. Spring was mild, dry and sunny and therefore we were 15 days ahead of time. We kept these days until the end of the flowering. Due to a pretty cold summer, the veraison was spread until mid-August. An amount of sunshine higher than 20%, the average temperatures higher of 2°C than a normal vintage and less rain : that was September ! Since 1900, it was one of the warmest month! This Indian Summer allowed the berries to get more maturity and concentration, their volume declining up to 10% per week.

TASTING NOTES

A quite intense plum color. The nose is explosive and shows notes of fruit cake, candied lemon and peach in syrup. The rhubarb appears after aeration. The palate is so delicate and fine with a beautiful freshness and smooth tannins. The salivating finish offers notes of red currant.

90/100

"Quite developed soy-sauce and earth nose. A solid wine with quite a firm core, but it's not very charming at the moment. The harmony on the finish is good though."

James Suckling, 14/02/2017

Decanter

89/100

"A high 89% Merlot in this second wine, as they work increasing the Cabernet Sauvignon in the grand vin. This also has touches of Petit Verdot and Cabernet Franc. Tight fruit structure and lovely integrity of red cherry and cassis fruit, given weight without smothering from 5-10% new oak."
