Lionel Gosseume settled down late in life, at 37 years old, after having been a "truant vine" for many years. He resisted, fought not to follow in the family footsteps, but without success! The virus got the better of him and in 2007 he dived in and took over a small vineyard on a vast plateau between the Loire River and its tributary the Cher, a succession of wide undulations, limited by small gently sloping hillsides.

PRESENTATION

From vines dating back up to 65 years, this classic, carbonic Gamay is fresh and juicy. Grown mostly in sand, grass is grown between the rows to control vigor.

LOCATION

The vineyards are located between the Loire and Cher rivers, mostly in the Choussy commune, a few miles south of Blois. It's at the heart of the Sauvignon de Touraine region

IN THE VINEYARD

The grapes are harvested when they are very mature and only those in perfect condition are selected. Small 10kg containers are used to transport them back to the winery to avoid any crushing of the berries.

These perfectly preserved bunches are then put into tank and undergo a carbonic maceration for two weeks.
