

Domaine Bruno Colin

Hailing from a long line of winemakers in Chassagne-Montrachet, Bruno Colin struck out on his own in 2003 to create a domaine reflecting his vision. His 8.75 hectares span 30 parcels, mainly within prestigious Premier Cru sites in Chassagne-Montrachet, Puligny-Montrachet, and Santenay.

His approach to viticulture is meticulous and sustainable, with a strong focus on soil health and yield control to faithfully express the essence of Burgundy's terroirs. Unlike some Côte de Beaune producers who lean heavily on new oak, Bruno Colin opts for balance typically using 20 to 30% new barrels to preserve purity and minerality.

His whites are elegant and precise, with complex aromas of white-fleshed fruits, hazelnut, and a hint of butter. Though more discreet, his reds are equally compelling, showcasing finesse and harmony. Across the board, his wines reflect his philosophy: to translate each climate's identity with authenticity and refinement.
