

Christophe Buisson

Perched on the heights of Saint-Romain, in a preserved valley of the Côte de Beaune, Domaine Christophe Buisson farms around 8 hectares of vineyards, mainly within the Saint-Romain appellation. The altitude and steep slopes give the wines a distinctive freshness and precision.

One anecdote perfectly reflects the estate's philosophy: Christophe Buisson was among the first winegrowers in Saint-Romain to convert his entire vineyard to organic farming, long before it became common in the appellation. This early commitment highlights his desire to work in harmony with the terroir.

The wines stand out for their energy and purity, with mineral-driven, vibrant whites and refined, elegant reds that faithfully express the freshness typical of Saint-Romain.
