

Domaine Thevenot-Lebrun

In Marey-lès-Fussey, on the heights of the Côte de Nuits, Domaine Thévenot Le Brun represents a slightly different face of Burgundy. Away from the spotlight of the famous villages below, the family has been farming these hillside vineyards for generations, with a deep attachment to this high-altitude terroir.

The estate farms around 30 hectares of vineyards, spread across Hautes-Côtes de Nuits, Nuits-Saint-Georges and a few parcels in the Côte de Beaune. This diversity of sites allows the domaine to craft wines that combine freshness, structure and a strong sense of place.

One distinctive feature of the estate is its elevated vineyard locations. The cooler conditions of these hillside plots bring natural tension, energy and freshness to the wines, giving them a vibrant and approachable style.

The result is a range of wines that offer a lively and authentic expression of the Hautes-Côtes, marked by freshness, balance and drinkability.
