

Domaine Du Puits

Located in Hurigny, west of Mâcon, the Domaine du Puits showcases a sincere and carefully crafted expression of Mâconnais Chardonnay. Rooted in a sector renowned for its clay-limestone soils, the estate produces white wines that prioritize precision over effect, offering a clear expression of fruit and a true respect for their origin. This approach results in wines that are both approachable and consistently defined by their accuracy.

In the cellar, the focus is on preserving the identity of the grape and the natural balance of the wines. Ageing in both stainless steel tanks and oak barrels brings subtle complexity without weighing down the style, while the terroir lends a fresh, mineral backbone. The wines stand out for their notes of citrus and white fruits, their aromatic brightness and a palate that is supple, precise and elegant.

Domaine du Puits impresses with its ability to produce whites that are clear, refined and immediately appealing, while maintaining a true Mâconnais character. It stands as a fine signature of the region, ideal for those seeking southern Burgundy wines that combine freshness, finesse and an authentic expression of Chardonnay.
