AOC Bourgogne Côte Chalonnaise, Bourgogne, France

Domaine Lagarde is based in Rosey in the heart of Côte Chalonnaise, near Rully and Givry. The Domaine was established in 1989 when Jean-François Lagarde acquire its first 4 hectares. Now the Domaine spread over 30 hectares. At that time, all the grapes were vinified in Coop and it is only when Lucile, the younger daughter, joined the Domaine, that they started to vinify and bottle in their own premises. At today's date, they still sale some bulk to negociant as they don't have enough space to age all the

PRESENTATION

The land belonged to the parents of Jean-François Lagarde, a farmer. Jean-François decided to bring the land to fruition by planting Burgundy's flagship grape variety, Chardonnay. It took several years of planting, from 1986 to 1991, to reach the present 3 hectares. Rows over 250m long.
