

AMÉDÉE

VIGNOBLES EN PARC NATUREL

La Belle de Canet, IGP Méditerranée, Blanc

IGP Méditerranée, France

PRESENTATION

In the 17th century, a beautiful love story was born between Louis de Vendôme and Lucrèce de Forbin-Solliès, known as the Belle de Canet. The Pavillon Vendôme, in Aix-en-Provence, still bears the scars of this beautiful story, which was also known at the time as a place of pleasure... The elegance and femininity of Mediterranean charm are found in this magical cuvée.

TERROIR

Clay-limestone terroir.

IN THE VINEYARD

Harvested at night to retain all the freshness and fruity aromas, direct pressing and temperature-controlled fermentation.

AGEING

Aged in vats on fine lees.

VARIETAL

Vermentino 100%

SERVING

Serve chilled, between 10 and 12°C. Enjoy this wine as an aperitif.

TASTING

La Belle de Canet reveals intense, expressive aromatic notes. The nose is marked by hints of flowers, pear and white peach, as well as a touch of ripe citrus fruit. The palate is soft and airy. La Belle de Canet is delicate and elegant.
