

Famille Virot Marey

The Virot Marey family is part of the long-standing winegrowing history of the Côte de Beaune, with a vineyard heritage now integrated into Domaine Maillard, based in Chorey-lès-Beaune. This name reflects a Burgundian family legacy built on transmission, deep knowledge of terroirs and a committed approach to vine growing.

Over time, these parcels have found continuity within Domaine Maillard, which today farms 19 hectares across the Côte de Beaune. This integration preserves the identity of the Virot Marey vineyards while placing them within a precise and thoughtful interpretation of each appellation and climat. It continues a strong local story rooted in hands-on vineyard work and intimate understanding of the land.

Through this signature, the wines express an authentic vision of Burgundy, where terroir remains central. The work at the domaine focuses on crafting wines that are precise, refined and true to their origin. The Virot Marey name thus embodies the link between family heritage and a modern, carefully balanced expression of the Côte de Beaune's great terroirs.
