Racine, AOC Côtes de Provence, Rosé, 2023

AOC Côtes de Provence, Provence, France

Bruno Lafon came of age at his family's Burgundy estate, soaking up generations of incomparable viticulture. Since 1999, Bruno has used his knowledge and skill to create excellent wine in the South of France for a fraction of the cost of his family's Burgundy. Also a Provence enthusiast, Bruno wants to spill the beans on his version of summer – a sun-soaked, South-of-France extravaganza that'll make you want to pack your bags and join the fun!

PRESENTATION

When you're loading up on wines for the summer, reaching for a chilled rosé is almost instinctive. What's more refreshing than this after enduring a sweltering day and a stuffy commute? It's like a burst of sunshine in every glass, wonderfully adaptable with various dishes, and it seamlessly melds the best of white and red wines. The beauty of a high-quality, dry rosé lies in its savory, often mineral-like undertones, combined with an invigoratingly crisp acidity. Perfect for cooling down and unwinding!

WINEMAKING

Grapes are picked from dawn until midday. They are then destemmed and gently crushed at cool temperatures to prevent oxidation. Following this, both the free-run and pressed juices are moved to stainless steel vessels. Here, fermentation begins and is meticulously maintained at precise, controlled temperatures.
