Le P'tit Pinot de Bruno, Rouge, 2022

Vin de France, VSIG, France

Bruno Lafon didn't just make wine; he made friends in the vineyards! Over the past couple of decades, he worked his charm with Languedoc growers, convincing them to join his grape squad. It's like he had a secret handshake for access to the crème de la crème grapes. Cheers to Bruno, the grape whisperer!

PRESENTATION

Bruno and Pinot Noir: two peas from the same Burgundy pod! It's like they're long-lost cousins. Bruno's vineyards, perched up high, create the perfect setup for wine that's all about the aroma and color game. Nestled right between the Pyrenees down South and the Black Mountains up North, it's like they found the sweet spot where the wild Mediterranean tantrums meet the soothing Atlantic hugs. It's like having the best of both worlds in a bottle!

WINEMAKING

We're talking old-school wine magic here, folks! We take the classic route with stainless steel tanks and keep things cool, like your favorite Netflix binge night. After that, it's a quick pit-stop in the tank spa for 2 to 4 weeks to let the flavors mingle before we bottle up the goodness. It's like a wine party with a short, but unforgettable, guest list!

TASTING

Here's a Pinot Noir that's more aromatic than your grandma's potpourri! It's got personality for days, with a nose that's all about strawberries, raspberries, and those irresistible red cherries. This Pinot is like the cool kid in town, grown in the chilliest terroir. When you pour it into your glass, it's like a juicy summer fruit explosion in there, with a hint of freshly ground clove and the exotic allure of goji berries. The finish? Oh, it's as smooth as a secret agent in a spy movie, with silky tannins and a whisper of dried herbs that'll make you linger for more.

FOOD PAIRINGS

Get ready for a posh dining affair, complete with a Pinot Noir that's so fancy, even the Queen would approve! Crafted by a Burgundy maestro, this wine takes you on a journey through the deepest forest floors and throws in some fancy flowers just for kicks. It's like a high-altitude vineyard adventure in a glass! And speaking of adventures, when it comes to pairing, it's like a match made in Burgundy heaven with earthy mushrooms or a herb-crusted lamb that'll have your taste buds doing the tango. So put on your fanciest dinner jacket and let's toast to luxury!
