Séduction, Grenache, IGP Pays d'Oc, Rosé, 2025

IGP Pays d'Oc, France

PRESENTATION

The "SÉDUCTION" wine range from Pays d'Oc reflects all the expertise of the oenologists at Maison Badet Clément, true enthusiasts of the diversity of wines and terroirs. Driven by a love for the land and a taste for well-done work, they create single varietal wines with precise character, each one telling in its own way the unique story of the terroirs of Pays d'Oc. Designed as moments of pleasure, these cuvées are crafted to captivate and seduce those who discover them, offering an unforgettable sensory experience that evokes the elegance and richness of this beautiful wine region in the South of France.

TERROIR

This wine is produced from the Grenache grape variety. The grapes were grown on vines planted in the clay-limestone soils of Languedoc, near the Mediterranean coast. Grenache is a grape variety that thrives in arid regions. The climate of this region is hot, dry, and very sunny.

WINEMAKING

The clusters undergo direct pressing. Settling is important in order to obtain a very clear juice, which will then be vinified like a white wine and fermented at low temperature (15°C). For this Grenache, there is no malolactic fermentation.

VARIETAL

Grenache 100%

TASTING

This wine presents itself with an elegant pale pink robe, offering a beautiful freshness and a pleasant liveliness. On the palate, the attack is straightforward and fruity, revealing a subtle tension and a marked minerality. Well-balanced, it stands out for its long finish, leaving a sensation of freshness in the mouth.

FOOD PAIRINGS

Serve very chilled (8°C) as an aperitif, with grilled meat, a mixed salad, or stuffed vegetables.
